

Disclaimer of Endorsement and Responsibility

All users of the EcoLandscape California (ELC) website agree to indemnify, defend, and hold harmless ELC, its officers, agents, members, volunteers, project creators, trainers/educators, and each and every organization sponsoring and/or supporting ELC, including their agents, employees, or volunteers, from any and all liability, claims, losses, costs, expenses, injuries, damages, damage to property, and/or personal injury, including death, that may be sustained by using the EcoLandscape California website and its contents.

All information included in the Eco-Friendly Landscape Design Plans for the New California Landscape and the ELC website is intended to assist in the efficient use, management, and protection of our natural resources, especially water, for eco-friendly landscapes. The information presented is provided as a public service and is not a substitute for the exercise of sound judgment. The inclusion of websites, publications, organizations, companies, and other information is not to be considered as endorsements or recommendations.

Landscape & Irrigation Design Plans

These designs, project notes, diagrams, resources, and any other information are provided for informational and illustration purposes only and in no way are they to be interpreted as construction details or specifications.

Specific products from manufacturers have been noted. Specification of these products is not intended as an endorsement. Irrigation parts and materials were chosen specifically for their ability to provide the optimum in irrigation efficiency. Products from other manufacturers may be substituted. If products are substituted, it is recommended that they be both professional grade and at least as effective as the ones specified.

These plans can be adapted to a specific site. Adaptations should be prepared by a qualified landscape designer or architect and irrigation designer prior to any landscape installation. When hiring contractors to install a landscape or irrigation plan, it is recommended that consumers contract with professionals who are licensed and insured for the work to be performed.
